Sunsets At The Ranch by Rob Georg: A Musical Gem

BY WARLOCK ASYLUM ON JULY 23, 2015 - LEAVE A COMMENT

The German-born country music singer and songwriter Rob Georg has just released another epic recording entitled Sunsets At The Ranch. Georg has not only proven himself to be an excellent musician and songwriter, but also country music's first Renaissance man in paving the way for those of foreign descent to be able to participate in a music form that emerged out of American soil. Georg is a fountain of creativity and brings an energy to the industry of country music that is much needed.

Sunsets At The Ranch wonderfully illustrates Rob Georg's evolution as an artist. The song is a touching ballad that is given further depth from its poetic lyricism and prose. The melody is totally irresistible. Sunsets At The Ranch holds its integrity for country music as it stands as an acoustic guitar charmer. Additional instrumentation adds to the song's contemplative mood.

The winning element of this composition is Rob Georg himself. Georg is able to shape Sunsets At The Ranch's vibe with his spectacular voice and poise in song. As with prior releases, Georg's signature style and country draw go hand in hand with traditional elements of the genre. Georg further enhances Sunsets At The Ranch's meaning with a great music video. The video for the song draws our attention to its poetic lyricism through a series of visuals where we find Georg in silhouette and profile scenes with the setting sun in the background. Sunsets At The Ranch is a tremendous musical gem that rises far above even the boundaries of its own genre and for this does Rob Georg deserve our applause.
